

How is the SBA helping Small Business Through this Crisis

- Status of the Emergency Declaration
 - It's All Hands-On Deck at the U.S. Small Business Administration
 - We are working closely with the state to ensure Wisconsin's small businesses get the help they need to survive this crisis.
 - We have streamlined the process and expect to be able to offer Economic Injury Disaster Loans soon.
- Again the state needs a declaration before small business owners can apply, but they can get the paperwork together now so that when the portal opens, they are ready to be at the front of the line!
 - Here's what they'll need:
 - Tax Information Authorization (IRS Form 4506T) for the applicant, principals and affiliates.
 - Complete copies of the most recent Federal Income Tax Return.
 - Schedule of Liabilities (SBA Form 2202).
 - Personal Financial Statement (SBA Form 413).
 - Profit and loss statements
 - Monthly sales figures (SBA Form 1368)
- Badger State small businesses need more and our partners are ready to help
 - Small businesses with SBA-backed micro-loans, 7(a) loans, and 504 loans can request deferrals of three-six months. Contact your lender for details.
 - The SBA has a great relationship with our funded resource partners that are ready to help small businesses figure out how to keep the lights on, what to do if they need to turn them off temporarily, how to get additional assistance from a variety of channels, so many things.
- For no-cost, one-on-one business advising regarding COVID-19 and other matters, contact SBA Resource Partners (offices may be closed, but have phone and videoconferencing abilities). Many are also moving in-person classes to webinar formats. Check their websites for the latest information. To locate one near you: <https://www.sba.gov/local-assistance>
